Six AI tools costing under $300 a month combined can replace tens of thousands in annual SaaS spending across every department. This is not about developers or technical wizards. It is about the marketing manager, the HR lead, the office manager, and the freelance consultant who learn to point these tools at real problems and watch the subscriptions become redundant.

Sixty real use cases. Six departments. Six AI tools. Concrete savings, named products, and the skill levels needed to actually pull each one off.
